MERCHANT, MANUFACTURER, AND TOURIST.

From The Cleveland (Onio) Heraid.

"APPLETON'S ILLUSTRAYED RAILWAY GUIDE - The October number of this invaluable publication is before us. We know of no work of the kind that will bear comparison to it. The editor and originator, Mr. G. F. Tho may resided in the West many years previous to the int oduction of railroads, and has traveled more or less upon them since their first introduction, and we know of none mote competent to superintend a Railway Guide. Independent of its utility as a 'Guide, the reading matter is always une xceptionable, the information imparted to the traveler cannot be estimated by dollars and cents. The number before us contains an excedent pontrait of Dean Richmond, Vice President of the New York Central Railway, with a Pheen-logical Delinestroo of character by Fowler & Weils, of New York, which alone is worth be Price of the work."

THE MINISTER'S WOOING. BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

One large 12mp, volume. Price, $1.25.
It is the rare faculty of this author to invest everything she It is the rare faculty of this author to invest which surprising interest. Rural life, as she describes it becomes more attractive in its simplicity than that of the most brilliant court. The Minister's Woolng is a prose-poem, dealing with the noblest and most rugged traits of New-Eng and character, the picturesque side of old-fashioned life, as well as those deep emotions of the heart which are the same in all generations What Cooper did for the pioneer of Western civilization, wha Irving has done for the Dutch founders of New-York, Mrs. Stowhas now accomplished for the New-England of sixty years ago the New-England as it was before Railways. It is better that history-it is a revelation of the inner life of the people as well as a picture of meaners.

attempt was a daring one; for Mrs. Stowe proposed to ese her story on the religious character of the tim tain that no author ever wove the somber threads of theology fut so brilliant a pattern. The workings of different minds, under the influence of that gloomy but sublime faith, form a study which helds every reader irresistibly. The world is now turning its attention anew to the great problems of religion, and this book In making this prediction respecting the smocess of "THE MINISTER'S WOOLNG," the Publishers only repeat the substance of thousands of critical notices from the leading literary and political journals of this country and Great Britain. No novel published in this country has ever received such unanimo and enthusiastic praise.
